Presentation: All Neighbors Coalition- Homeless Response System

Presented By: Sarah Kahn, President & CEO, Housing Forward

Ms. Kahn provided an update on the Dallas and Collin Counties homeless response system. Since 2021, the region has increased pathways to housing and supportive services by 196%, while overall homelessness has decreased by 23%. Despite this progress, demand for services has increased by 83%, with approximately 10,800 households entering homelessness in 2025. Ms. Kahn emphasized the need to expand diversion, transitional assistance, supportive housing, and behavioral health services to prevent individuals from cycling through homelessness, emergency rooms, and jail.

The presentation highlighted coordinated efforts for individuals with complex behavioral health needs through outreach, case conferencing, crisis respite, treatment, and housing connections. Dallas County continues to support these efforts through coordinated jail releases, behavioral health diversion, and partnerships across the criminal justice, behavioral health, hospital, and homeless response systems. Ms. Kahn reports system wide progress with 1,853 exits from homelessness and more than 26,000 case management encounters.

North Texas Behavioral Health Authority (NTBHA) Update

Carol Lucky, CEO, NTBHA. Ms. Lucky reported that several state contracts are being renewed as multi-year agreements, including continued funding through 2029 for the Living Room, Jail-Based Competency Restoration, and Outpatient Competency Restoration programs. She also provided an update on the new state hospital [Texas Behavioral Health Center at UTSW], which will open in phases and ultimately open all 292 beds by September 1, 2028, which will include forensic, pediatric, and civil capacity.

Ms. Lucky also discussed ongoing concerns regarding state funding for substance use disorder services, particularly residential treatment and detoxification services. She noted that residential programs remain costly and significantly underfunded and that efforts are underway to address the state's funding methodology. NTBHA continues working with providers, including Nexus and Homeward Bound, to strengthen mental health services for individuals with co-occurring mental health and substance use need.

Meadows Mental Health Policy Institution (MMHPI)

Ron Stretcher, Senior Director of Systems Management, MMHPI. Mr. Stretcher did not provide an additional update and deferred to Mr. Denton for the Dallas Deflection Center update.

Doug Denton, Executive Director, Homeward Bound, provided an update on the Dallas Deflection Center, reporting 107 admissions in May, with DART Police as the leading referral source, followed by the southern sector of the Dallas Police Department. Rapid responders also brought 23 individuals to the center through pre-arrest interventions. The Deflection Center continues to operate at or near capacity.

Mr. Denton discussed concerns about increased demand associated with upcoming FIFA activities and limited funding to support additional services. He also noted ongoing funding challenges related to serving individuals from Collin County and other areas. Collin County has transferred funding back to the State to support these services; however, Homeward Bound has not yet received those funds and continues providing services while awaiting reimbursement.

Dallas County Behavioral Health Housing Workgroup (BHHWG)

Commissioner Dr. Theresa Daniel, No report was provided during the meeting. The Dallas County Behavioral Health Housing Workgroup meeting notes for May are included in the BHLT packet.

Dallas County Mental Health Advisory Committee Update

Yordanos Melake, Criminal Justice Department. No report was provided during the meeting. The Committee was referred to the BHLT packet for the June Mental Health Assessment Unit report.

Legislative Update

Janie Metzinger, Director of External Affairs, NTBHA. No report was provided during the meeting. The Committee was referred to the BHLT packet for legislative updates.

Funding Opportunities Updates

- SAMHSA Residential Treatment Grant Update

Regina Fowlks, SAMHSA Program Coordinator. Ms. Fowlks provided an update on the SAMHSA Residential Treatment Grant. During the current fiscal year, there have been 33 admissions, including 17 to Nexus and 16 to Homeward Bound, with an average wait time of 17 days for both providers. Ms. Fowlks also reported 22 successful discharges and six unsuccessful discharges.

- Community Courts Grant Update-Public Defender's Office (PDO)

Theo Peugh, Mental Health Division Chief. Mr. Peugh acknowledged Ms. Michaela Himes, who will be leaving the office effective July 1 after accepting a position in Fort Worth. He thanked Ms. Himes for her contributions to the office, clients, BHLT, and her collaboration with community partners and stakeholders. The Committee expressed its appreciation for her service to Dallas County and wished her well in her new position.

- Restorative Justice Division-District Attorney's Office (RJD-DAO)

Julie Turnbull, Chief of Restorative Justice Division. Ms. Turnbull reported no additional updates and noted that statistics were included in the meeting packet. She also expressed appreciation for Ms. Michaela Himes and wished her well in her new position.

Upcoming Events and Notifications

- Joe Powell, CEO, APAA, Mr. Powell announced an upcoming recovery rally at Hutchins State Prison, where approximately 400 individuals have been selected to participate. 89th Texas Legislature-Interim
House Committee on Human Services
Hearing on Interim Charges Related to
Behavioral Health, Homelessness, and Recidivism

House Intergovernmental Affairs Committee

Chair: Representative Cecil Bell, Vice-Chair: Representative Erin Zwiener

Members: Representatives Sheryl Cole, Philip Cortez, Cassandra Garcia Hernandez, Terri Leo Wilson, David Lowe, Shelley Luther, Jon E. Rosenthal, David Spiller, Carl Tepper

Interim Charge:

- Study and evaluate the relationship between mental health conditions, homelessness, and the criminal justice system.
- Examine the availability of specialized high-acuity beds for the homeless, specifically for those with severe mental illness, addiction, and complex medical conditions.
- Make recommendations regarding pre-arrest diversion, alternatives to inpatient hospitalization, and best practices for sharing data to reduce recidivism.

Key Invited Testimony

Paul Webster-Cicero Research Institute

- Connect mental health and substance use disorder care with housing services.
- Local Continuum of Care committees should include law enforcement, elected officials and local businesses.
- Greater state coordination between local behavioral health services, HHSC and Public Safety.
- Better coordination will allow Texas to be eligible for increased funding from the US Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Jakob Dupuis-Cicero Research Institute

- Traditional homelessness services work well for economically homeless—people who are homeless due to job loss, getting behind on rent, domestic violence. Rapid rehousing and other housing assistance usually help people in these situations to self-resolve temporary homelessness.
- Traditional homelessness services generally do not work as well in addressing street homelessness.
 - 37% have been incarcerated in prison, 79% in jail.
 - 70% of people in prison will return to prison.
 - 75% of people in prison have been arrested 5 or more times.
 - 45% of people in prison have been arrested 10 or more times.
 - 50% have experienced violence, at least 15% have experienced sexual violence.
 - 60% report using hard narcotics.
 - 80% report having a serious mental illness or substance use disorder.
 - Reported 14-22% are registered sex offenders.

This document is intended for informational purposes only and is not intended to indicate a position for or against any legislation. If you have questions, please contact Janie Metzinger at jmetzinger@ntbha.org

Recommendations:

- Establish and Extended Commitment of at least a year for individuals with highly acute behavioral health symptoms who have had multiple civil commitments.
- If the individual is not acute enough for state hospital commitment, but more acute than community-based services only, extended commitment should to include Assertive Community Treatment (ACT) services, step-down facilities, and other intensive services.
- Diversion programs should be post-adjudication under a suspended sentence to give incentive for person to continue in treatment.

John Bonura-Texas Public Policy Foundation

Recommendations:

- Local Continuity of Care programs should be audited to ascertain scope of available resources; capabilities best to optimize aligning services with HUD funding, and to detect vulnerabilities to waste, fraud, and abuse.
- Law enforcement, emergency medical services, and street outreach teams should have access to Homeless Management Information Systems (HMIS).
- Crisis Service Centers to address the needs of people when homeless encampments are removed.
- Accountability for cities that do not address complaints regarding the needs of people who are homeless.

Texas Public Policy Foundation-Research, White Papers on Homelessness

BJ Wagner-Meadows Mental Health Policy Institute and Caruth Police Institute

Recommendations:

- Fund training 911 telecommunications training, especially for smaller municipalities and counties and through Texas Commission on Law Enforcement (TCOLE).
- Multi-Disciplinary Response Teams, such as RIGHT Care Teams in Dallas.
- Communities should leverage Texas Mental Health Program Grants for Justice-Involved Individuals.
- Data collection, particularly on the behavioral health history of individuals killed in officer-involved shootings in reports required by the Texas Attorney General.

Steven Autry-Dallas County Director of Operations for Judicial and Correctional Services

- Millions spent to house low-level offenders, who effectively are serving life sentences 30 days at a time.
- Is a public safety, jail population (94% capacity) and taxpayer issue (about $20 million per month).
- Communities are not getting safer.
- Goal is to get the right level of care earlier, reduce repeat crisis contact, and preserve jail capacity for violent offenders who truly need to be detained.
- Dallas County has strong programs and strong partners. Aim is to work as one coordinated public safety system by providing treatment stabilization, housing and supports.
- Pre-arrest deflection for low-level, non-violent offenders requires a reliable place to take people who need help but do not belong in jail.
- Early evaluation of competency cases saved 10,728 jail days that would have been spent waiting for state hospitals.
- Need more law enforcement drop-off options.

Recommendations:

- Need clear response and law enforcement officer drop-off locations.
- Need stronger court-to-treatment pathways.
Expand funding that make release and treatment successful:
 - Medical continuity
 - Intensive case management
 - Peer support
 - Treatment
 - Structured follow-up
 - Housing navigation
- Need immediate residential and stabilization capacity.
- Need Substance Use Disorder (SUD) treatment pathways.
 - It is often difficult to tell at book-in if the person is experiencing a mental health crisis or an SUD crisis.
 - Need more assessment, detox, treatment linkages and residential treatment capacity.
- Need improved data sharing among all stakeholders.
- Need local flexibility similar to Florida's Baker Act which allows licensed medical professionals or law enforcement officers to authorize a civil commitment to hold individual for 72 hours for stabilization

Brian Erickson-Avel eCare

- Worked in South Dakota to develop access to timely crisis intervention in rural areas through telemedicine assessments, working with LBHAs/LMHAs.
- Can get an assessment accomplished in 12 minutes.
- Deployed in 10 states currently, including Texas.
