6. Property and Debts

About community property: Texas is a community property state. This means that any new property or debt that either party obtains from the minute they are married until the minute the judge grants the divorce is probably community property, even if the property or debt is only in one spouse's name. There are only a few exceptions to the law of community property such as gifts, inheritance, or a recovery for personal injuries that occurred during the marriage that is not for lost wages or medical expenses. All community property and debt should be included in the Final Decree of Divorce.

About separate property: If either party receives a gift, an inheritance, or a recovery for personal injuries that occurred during the marriage that is not for lost wages or medical expenses, it is separate property. It is a good idea to list separate property obtained during the marriage as that spouse's separate property in the Final Decree of Divorce.

More information about community and separate property can be found by consulting a lawyer, as well as in the Texas Family Code, Chapters 3, 4, and 5.

The Court makes the following orders regarding the parties' community and separate property:

Husband's Property

Husband's Separate Property

(Fill in all lines. If you have no property to declare in any particular category, write "none.")

The Court confirms that Husband owns the following property as his separate personal property:

If Wife has retirement funds, the funds:

- accrued between the date of the marriage and the date this Decree is signed by the Court are awarded 50% to Wife and 50% to Husband.
- are awarded _____ to Wife and _____ to Husband. (List dollar amount or percentage.)

are awarded 100% to Wife.

If you divide the retirement funds above by awarding any of Wife's retirement funds to Husband, you will need to obtain an additional court order, usually called a "qualified domestic relations order" (QDRO), to make the division effective. A QDRO form is not included in this Divorce Set. It is recommended that you hire a lawyer to prepare a QDRO. If you award all of Wife's retirement funds to Wife or if Wife has no retirement funds, you do not need a QDRO.

Wife's Debts (If you do not want Wife to pay these debts, do NOT use this form.)

Wife shall pay and shall indemnify and hold the husband and his property harmless for any failure to discharge the debts listed below:

1. All taxes, bills, liens, and other charges, present and future, that are in Wife's name alone or that this Order gives to Wife alone, unless this Order requires otherwise.
2. Any debt Wife incurred after separation. Date of separation _____ .

3. The balance due on any loan for any vehicles that this Order gives to Wife alone.
4. The other debts listed below, which are not in Wife's name alone (such as credit cards, student loans, medical bills, income taxes):

7. Muniment of Title

This Decree shall serve as a muniment of title to transfer ownership of all property awarded to any party in this Final Decree of Divorce. (A "muniment of title" creates an official record of ownership transfer.)

8. Name Change

The Court changes the name of the:

(Check all boxes that apply)

First Middle Last

Wife back to a name used before marriage, as it appears below.

9. Court Costs

The costs of court are to be borne by the party who incurred them to the extent the party is required to pay such costs. A party who filed an affidavit of indigency that was not successfully contested is not required to pay court costs.

10. Other Orders

The court has the right to make other orders, if needed, to clarify or enforce the orders above.

11. Final Order

Any orders requested that do not appear above are denied. This Decree is a final judgment that disposes of all claims and all parties and is appealable.
