

Statement from Dallas County Judge Clay Jenkins

For Immediate Release
October 24 2014

"I am so thrilled for Nina, her parents Peter and Diana, her sister Cathy and everyone who has been praying and pulling for this "hometown healthcare hero." Nina has been through a lot and deserves private time to fully recuperate. I'm excited to welcome her home and I know Bentley will be glad to see her. Although Bentley remains under quarantine until the end of the month, Nina will be able to visit, hold and play with him tomorrow. I know that will be good for both of them. I'd also like to thank the staff at both Presbyterian Hospital and the National Institutes of Health for their care of Nina and for helping her return to North Texas Ebola free."

Contact: Lauren Trimble, Chief of Staff for Judge Jenkins/PIO for Ebola Incident Management Center
Lauren.Mish@dallascounty.org