

September 21, 2016
For Immediate Release

MEDIA ADVISORY

Dallas County Judge Clay Jenkins marks Welcoming Week and Dallas County's vibrant refugee community by visiting an afterschool program in Vickery Meadow.

WHEN: Wednesday, September 21st, 4pm – 5pm

WHERE: NorthWest Community Center, 5750 Pineland Dr, Dallas, TX 75231

WHAT: Dallas County Judge Clay Jenkins will be visiting a Homework Help session for refugee Dallas ISD students and an American Sign Language Class for deaf and/or hard-of-hearing refugee adults, reinforcing Dallas County's value of recognizing all children as precious and welcoming refugees fleeing violence.

NorthWest Community Center's Mission is to "aid and empower" refugee families. The After School programs provide a safe place for children to study and learn.

<http://www.northwestbible.org/northwestcommunitycenter/>

WHO: Dallas County Judge Clay Jenkins
Brian Newby, NorthWest Community Center
Donna Duvin, Executive Director of International Rescue Committee (IRC)

CONTACT: Emily Trube, Office of Dallas County Judge
Cell - 214-284-5913
Office Direct - 214-653-4444

#####